Introduction

In 2011-2012 Oldham presented its report differently, as a DVD entitled Good RE in a diverse borough. With the help of Oldham Council and The City Learning Centre, Oldham the format for a traditional SACRE report was used as a platform for highlighting major themes relating to the delivery of RE in the borough. Through a training event in March 2011 the process for writing a new Agreed Syllabus was also initiated and plans for regular meetings for RE teachers in Oldham were put in place. Copies of the DVD are still available. A survey of needs was proposed and distributed to all schools.

A major goal of SACRE in 2011-12 was raising SACRE's profile. With the support of Michael Jameson (Executive Director) and officers of Oldham Council the outlook for SACRE in the year ahead was very positive with funding secure and in place enabling delivery of the Development Plan. This was in the context of significant budget challenges in Oldham. SACRE continues to highlight and develop understanding that Religious Studies in Oldham is a valued contributor to the drive to raise standards and makes a very positive contribution to the growth of understanding between Oldham's communities.

Oldham SACRE was also heartened by the developments at a national level including the work of the All Party Parliamentary Group investigating Religious Education in Schools and the launch of the RE Quality Mark. Additional members were drawn from a range of schools and religious and non religious foundations increasing diversity in membership and adding significant expertise. The SACRE determined to review its constitution in the future following the publication of the Agreed Syllabus. Recent remarks about Spiritual Social Moral and Cultural aspects of the curriculum prompted Oldham SACRE to plan a launch of the Agreed Syllabus and refresh its own profile with the help of HMI Alan Brine and also begin the recruitment of RE Champions from Oldham Schools.

The Locally Agreed Syllabus Support for maintaining standards in RE

For the whole of the 2012-13 academic year, support for RE in Oldham was provided by a consultant, funded for 10 days per year by Oldham Council. This consultant support was provided by a professional who had supported SACRE for several years when still employed by the council. This involved convening and chairing teacher network meetings, leading training sessions on RE for schools, reporting to SACRE, helping to organise events such as Conferences and Network meetings, monitoring provision and standards in schools and leading on the implementation of a new syllabus.

This support from an independent consultant will continue for the school year 2013-14. Additionally, Oldham Association of Headteachers has provided extra resources for supporting the maintenance of standards. Their representative Ms Lesley Parry attended SACRE regularly

Teachers do not generally report directly to SACRE on a regular basis, they have, however liaised with the consultant through the FIRST CLASS network and have provided ongoing mutual specialist support to colleagues in schools through the RE Conference site.

In 2012-2013 a number of Oldham schools entered the work of pupils in the Spirited Arts Competition and some of the entries were also offered for use in the Oldham Agreed Syllabus.
